

THE PROPER INTRODUCTION
OF
THE MOST EMINENT GRAND COMMANDER
BY THE EMINENT CAPTAIN GENERAL

The Warder will answer the alarm at the door and inform the Eminent Commander that The Most Eminent Grand Commander is without the door. The Eminent Commander will order the Eminent Captain General to prepare the asylum for the reception of the Most Eminent Grand Commander. The Captain General order the Sir Knights to form an avenue to receive the Most Eminent Grand Commander under an arch of steel (only the Most Eminent Grand Commander). The door must remain open until the Most Eminent Grand Commander and his entourage are within the asylum.

Once the Most Eminent Grand Commander and his entourage are within the asylum and at the altar the Captain General will come down from the East and position himself north of the Altar and introduce the Most Eminent Grand Commander to the council and the members of the commandery. He States the following:

To the Eminent Commander, Generalissimo, Past Eminent Commanders, Sir Knights All. It is my duty to introduce or present to you the Most Eminent Grand Commander and his cabinet, for all Sir Knights in and for the Jurisdiction of Pennsylvania. A distinguished Past Eminent Commander of (State the name and number of the Most Eminent Grand Commanders commandery) And then state the Most eminent Grand Commanders Name.

THE CAPTAIN GENERAL TO THE MOST EMINENT GRAND COMMANDER

To the Most Eminent Grand Commander (state the name of the Most Eminent Grand Commander), I would like to introduce to you the Eminent Commander of (Commanderies name and number also the name of the Eminent Commander)

After the Most Eminent Grand Commander renders his greeting to the Eminent Commander and Commandery, he is escorted to the council by the way of the south where he is given GRAND HONORS led by the Captain General. After grand honors, the Most Eminent Grand Commander will seat the sir Knights
